

Foundation To Continue, Says Barton

Despite rumored dissolution of the Richard Nixon Foundation in Los Angeles, the local Birthplace Foundation is continuing operations, according to chairman Hurless Barton.

"We're keeping up with our own reports and the city is involved now," Barton said.

He stated that the local foundation is still working toward acquiring the frame house on Yorba Linda Boulevard where the 37th president was born. It now belongs to the Yorba Linda Elementary School District.

The foundation has been active in collecting Nixon memorabilia since its formation in 1969. Barton reported that they have already acquired most of the original furnishings—over 100 pieces. The foundation enlisted the aid of Mrs. Clara Jane Nixon, the president's sister-in-law. The furniture was scattered all over the country—but Clara Jane had kept close tabs over the years and was able to help the Yorba Linda foundation track most of it down.

Barton outlined a number of possibilities for the site—enlisting either state or Federal aid. The most simple treatment would be to take the two and a half acre homestead site and make it into a state park. The home itself would be furnished and opened to the public. More elaborate plans would call for purchasing the entire 22 acre school site and making use of the buildings that now house Nixon School for a museum—"but that's just a dream at this point," Barton said.

Interest in the foundation is still strong, despite Watergate and the resignation. "We receive many inquiries and occasionally some money," Barton reported.

Barton expressed confusion at the dissolution of the national Foundation—which has as its goals establishing a Nixon museum and library. "I don't understand it at all," Barton commented. "They must have had problems in their organization."

"Perhaps the cause of the dissolution is to form another foundation," he suggested.

Barton pointed out that there is no connection between the Nixon Foundation and the local Richard Nixon Birthplace Foundation—although Leonard Firestone, president of the national group, had visited Yorba Linda on the possibility of the two groups working together.

The local foundation continues to call special meetings. Members include Barton, local attorney Roland Bigonger, dentist Dr. Bob Meador, Yorba Linda pioneer Hoyt Corbett, former Star publisher Bill Drake, Clara Jane Nixon, Oscar Marshburn and secretary, Mary Bette.

Council To Impose Oil Tax

The Yorba Linda City council has taken positive action to deal with the 260 some oil wells scattered throughout the city.

In unanimous action the council voted to tax not the owners, but the lessees. City administrator Art Simonian and the city attorney were directed to draft and ordinance to that effect.

The subject was brought up at a recent council meeting by Councilwoman Carolyn Ewing who had mentioned at a previous meeting that taxing oil wells sold should be considered as a possible source of income that would help increase next year's revenues.

Yorba Linda is the only city which doesn't impose a tax on oil wells.

As far back as 1971, taxing the wells was considered, then came up again a year ago. An alternate plan for either taxation or a beautification program was discussed at one point. The beautification program would require oil companies leasing the land to establish a program of cleanup and landscaping as well as provisions for safety and fire hazard.

The idea was presented to oil companies, but the council received no response and opted to go ahead with conventional taxation.

Man Hit By Train In YL Recovering

A Laguna Hills man is still in intensive care at Canyon General Hospital after being struck by a Santa Fe freight train in Yorba Linda.

William A. Tombs, 65, suffered a possible broken arm and leg as well as lacerations. Hospital sources reported that he is still in intensive care; his condition is serious but vital signs are stable.

According to Capt. Paul Summers of the county fire department, the motorist was struck near the dead end of Esperanza road. A California Highway Patrol spokesman said that the victim's Chevrolet Nova was broadsided while stopped and centered on the railroad track shortly before 8:29 p.m. Tombs was reportedly trying to exit the car at the time of impact.

Airport Gets Setback

Beset from all sides, the Chino Hills Airport Complex, Inc. has been checked twice by the Orange County Grand Jury, founder Reg Wood said this week as word has circulated from Washington, D.C., that the Federal Aviation Administration will not be granting funding to the group's latest entity, the Inter-County Airport Authority.

Wood also indicated that the 180 property owners in the general Chino Hills area may be contemplating over 2,000 acres of residential development "if it is not considered as a site for an airport."

"In 60 days, we'll make a public announcement," Wood reported.

"People are waiting for residential communities to develop," Wood explained, but said he still feels the

A Backward Glance At 1974

The Year That Was

The year of Watergate, the Nixon resignation, the energy crisis, increasing inflation and deepening recession is over. A quick look over your shoulder at the past year shows Yorba Linda's role in the events that shook the nation. Last February and March, Yorba Lindans faced the same long lines at gas stations and 68 degree winter that other Americans contended with. The Nixon resignation had special significance here--the former president's birthplace, and television crews and wire services were on hand to record local reaction. Below, a quick pictorial overview of the year that's gone.

The Energy Crisis

Long lines of cars and odd hours for service stations marked the energy crisis last year. One Friday night, Star reporter counted 45 cars lined up at this Texaco station just outside of city limits.

Nixon Resignation

Television crews invaded Yorba Linda on August 8--the day Richard Nixon announced his resignation from the presidency of the United States. Above, ABC newsman Ken Kashuahara and camera crew on Main Street. Below, Ruth Ashton Taylor of Channel 2 interviews local attorney Roland Bigonger on future of birthplace foundation here.

Return To Office

Last year marked a return to office for city council incumbent Hank Wedaa and for a former councilman, Whit Cromwell. The March election was a close one--Wedaa won out over third runner-up Jim Matych by only 25 votes.

New High School

Yorba Linda students, anticipating the opening of Esperanza High School since September of 1973--swarmed through the school's gates in April of 1974. The students had been housed at Valencia before PUSD's 4.4 million dollar showcase high school was ready for use.

RE: PUBLIC HEARING 75-01

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that a Public Hearing will be conducted before the Yorba Linda Planning Commission at 7:30 p.m. or as soon as possible thereafter on Monday, January 13, 1975, in the multi-purpose room of the Yorba Linda District Library, 18262 Lemon Drive, Yorba Linda, California, to consider Discussion of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT on January 13, 1974, as part of the application preparation for Federal community development funds, the City of Yorba Linda will hold the first of two public hearings to discuss discussions of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974, and to solicit comments and suggestions from the public on appropriate activities for funding under this grant program.

More specifically, the Housing and Community Development Act provides funds to cities and counties for land acquisition, public works construction, rehabilitation, code enforcement, special projects for the elderly and handicapped as well as other activities for the improvement of urban communities. The Act further provides that the primary objective of the grant program is to prevent or arrest conditions of slum or blight, to provide community facilities and services, especially to families of low and moderate income, and to assist emergency community needs.

It is the intention of the Yorba Linda City Council to participate in this program and the application deadline for funding is mid-February. Therefore, the residents of Yorba Linda are urged to attend this hearing and a second to be scheduled prior to the application deadline. The public is also invited to make written comments which should be sent to the Planning Commission prior to the scheduled public hearings.

Additional information regarding this hearing may be obtained by contacting Phillip Paxton, Planning Director, Yorba Linda City Hall, 4845 Main Street.

A POW comes home from a tiny, cramped cell in Vietnam where he faced unspeakable deprivations, and then ran in a race for a Congressional seat against Jerry Patterson. Dave Rehmann, the POW, lost the race.

Now the Grand Jury has indicted eight of Patterson's campaign workers for allegedly falsifying their addresses in order to vote for Patterson. What kind of people could possibly do such dirty and cheap little tricks to a man who had sacrificed so much for them and every American? I am sure eight votes would not have changed the result of the election, but it seems reasonable to wonder if this isn't just the tip of the iceberg.

The thing that really boggles the mind, though, is that three of these people are going to be Congressman Patterson's advisors in Washington. It should be noted that Patterson has not been implicated, but the scandal touches him as it does all of us. If the charges are proven correct, the very least that is owed to POW Rehmann is a public apology.

Right or Wrong

If you have a teenager in your house, then you know its true that they see everything as black or white. There is no gray matter. It's either right or it's wrong.

Our son is still in this stage of his life. The following is a conversation we had last week, regarding the City Council's refusal to allow us to open our real estate office in the Town Center.

"Dad, why don't you just move into your new building?"

"Son, that would be breaking the law. Besides, the city won't allow the Edison Company to turn on the electricity."

"Let's get a portable generator."

"Be reasonable, Dave, we will do it the right way, through the courts."

"Dad, you know the City Council is wrong, don't you?"

"That's right. I think they have made a bad mistake. But don't you see Dave, if we move in illegally, we'll be just as wrong as they are? O.K.?"

"Boy, I'd move in. So would Mom."

"Your mother would not!"

"Yes, she would. She said so!" he exclaimed gleefully.

"Two against one just doesn't seem fair," I answered sadly.

It requires a lot of patience to live with a teenager and a wife who sometimes thinks like a teenager.
